Kemptville Players Inc. Presents Lafferty's Wake

November 16, 17, 23, & 24, 7:30 pm
November 17 Dinner Theatre, 6:00 pm
November 24 Dinner Theatre, 6:00 pm
November 18 & 25 Matinees, 2:00 pm

Kemptville Players Inc., the longest running theatre group in North Grenville, is presenting the production of the audience interactive Lafferty's Wake - a hilarious Irish farce.

Lafferty's Wake is the story of wild rover, Charlie Lafferty, who is being waked in grand style in his home away from home, the local pub. Come be a guest at this wake, and join Charlie's widow, his sweet daughter and bumbling son-in-law, the parish priest and the savvy innkeeper as they celebrate the life and times of ramblin', gamblin' Lafferty.

Two hours of sheer fun replete with jokes, jigs, games, stories and songs including such old favorites as Molly Malone, Whiskey in the Jar and When Irish Eyes Are Smiling guarantee a festive, audience-pleasing frolic.

Tickets are only $15 for the show and $45 for the dinner theatre. Buy your tickets online at www.kemptvilleplayers.ca.

North Grenville Community Fund
 Presents
Charity EXPO
 Saturday, November 10, 2:00 pm

 GRENVILLE
 FOUNDATION

This November, the North Grenville Community Foundation will be hosting the first-ever North Grenville Charity Expo, an event its organizers say will allow all of North Grenville's various charities and not-for-profit groups to meet, network and coordinate.

"Very often, we see different charities in the community competing with each other, sometimes holding events on the same dates," says the NGCF's Daren Givoque. "That in turn leads to a division, or splitting, of the potential donor base. People obviously can't attend two events at once!"

The Charity Expo hopes to facilitate an ongoing dialogue between charity leaders so that the various groups around the region can each make themselves heard without stepping on the toes of others.

This "Charity Trade Show", allows members of the community to learn more about the work the various charities do and perhaps guide them in directing their donations heading into 2019.

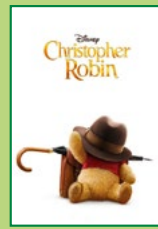

Admission is free to the public but charities may reserve their $25 tickets by visiting Eventbrite.ca. Seating is limited, so charity leaders are encouraged to book their tickets early!

For more information, see the North Grenville Community Fund website at northgrenvillecommunityfund.com.
